MIKY PALACE OF HORTICULTURE, ONE OF THE WORLD'S ARCHITECTURAL WONDERS

Beautiful Horticultural Palace at San Francisco, wherein will be exhibited a marvelous display of the horticultural industries of the world.

The photographer was looking west over the location of a lagoon to lie before the palace. The building is one of the most remarkable and beautiful of the exhibit structures. The main glass dome and the lesser domes and minarets are typical of the Orient and suggest the mosque of the Sultan Ahmed I in Constantinople, which, in turn, was copied after St. Sophia, mother of most of the famous architectural works in the Levant. The decorations of the lower portions of the building are suggestive of the architecture of the eighteenth century French renaissance, while the wooden trellis work, forming a distinctive feature in the decorative scheme, is derived from the garden architecture of the Louis XIV. period, which with the large areas of glass, suggest the purpose for which the structure is intended. The Palace of Horticulture covers an area of 600 by 300 feet, and its huge glass dome is 186 feet in height and 152 feet in diameter.

JEALOUSY KEEPS DOVE OF PEACE ON THE WING

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.]

MEXICO CITY, Mexico, Oct. 24.—Colonel Gonzales Garza, the personal representative of Gen. Pancho Villa, says that if Carranza persists in his policy of ignoring the authority of the convention at Aguas Calientes, he alone will be responsible for the war which must inevitably follow.

From Carranza headquarters comes the announcement that Carranza is willing to retire from office as provisional president provided Villa is not instrumental in procuring his resignation. Carranza also wishes to be assured that his retirement will not mean the ascendancy of Villa in Mexico.

Carranza indicates his willingness to have the convention request that both he and Villa give way for the appointment of a person who is neutral to both sides as provisional president of Mexico.

"Make The Map All White" Now Is Temperance Slogan

The rapid advance of prohibition in the United States is illustrated in the map above, showing "dry" states in white and "wet" in black.

"Make the Map All White" is the rallying cry of the Anti-Saloon League of America and the recent tremendous victory in Virginia is regarded as one of the evidences that the map soon will be "all white." The Anti-Saloon league's announcement contains the following:

"Make the map all white by constitutional amendment. Thirty-six states can do it."

"There are fewer saloons south of the Mason and Dixon line altogether than there are in the city of Chicago."

"The ten prohibition states are: Maine, Kansas, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Mississippi, Georgia, North Carolina, Tennessee, West Virginia, Virginia."

"One-fourth of all the people of the United States who live in saloon territory live in six cities—New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Boston, Detroit, and St. Paul."

"Thirty-six states can adopt the Sheppard-Hobson amendment."
